The Twelve Zodiac Animals

My favourite animal is the monkey. Monkeys are clever, agile and cute. They can swing, climb trees and imitate others. They are also very playful and energetic.

I was born in 2016 which is the Year of the Monkey. My parents always say that I am similar to a monkey: slim, active and mischievous! I agree with all of the compliments, but disagree with the complaints. I am not naughty; I am just curious about the world.

There is a character called 'Monkey King Sun Wukong' in the masterpiece 'Journey to the West'. He is my favourite character. The Monkey King is witty, innovative and can do seventy-two polymorphic transformations. He can do lots of tricks. I hope I can perform magic like him too!

My grandparents praise that the monkey zodiac sounds like 'marquis' in Chinese and is a good omen. Though it sounds a little superstitious, I do hope my zodiac animal can bring luck and wealth to my family. That is why my favourite zodiac animal is the monkey. What about yours?

The Twelve Zodiac Animals

My favourite zodiac animal is the rabbit. Rabbits are so cute! They have soft white fur that feels like cotton. Their long ears move around, listening carefully to every sound. Their red eyes are like shining rubies.

In the zodiac story, the rabbit was very smart. It didn't swim as fast as the horse but it used its wits in the great race to finish in fourth place. I admire its cleverness.

I have a small toy rabbit. It goes everywhere with me. It sits on my bed and I talk to it before going to sleep. Just like a real rabbit, my toy rabbit is always quiet and sweet.

I hope I can have a real pet rabbit one day. I will take good care of it, just like a best friend!

My Chinese New Year Party

Dear classmates,

You are invited to my Chinese New Year party! I am throwing a Chinese New Year party and would love for you to join me. This year is the Year of the Snake. The party will be at my home on 1st February at 3:30pm. There will be lots of yummy Chinese food, like dumplings and stir-fries. We will also play some traditional Chinese games. Please wear something red if you can, as it brings good luck. You do not need to bring anything, but a small gift like Chinese sweets would be a nice touch. I am looking forward to seeing you there!

Best wishes,

Daniel

4C Tong Hay Tung, Hana My Chinese New Year Party

Dear Kiana,

You are invited to my Chinese New Year party! Long time no see! My family and I miss you a lot. We will be happy to see you again.

On the day of Chinese New Year, first we will receive red packets from my parents and my grandparents. Be ready to say some lucky words when you see them! Then, we will play some games in the living room. We will write some lucky words on red paper and decorate my home together. You can take some home for your family too.

Next, we will go to the flower market near my home. There are many fun booths. We will buy some snake-like cookies. Do you know why people make these cookies? It is because it is the Year of the Snake! The cookies will bring us fun and good luck.

At night, we will have a barbeque dinner on my rooftop. I will prepare some of our favourite food, such as marshmallows, chicken wings and sausages.

These are the details of my party:

Date: 29th January, 2025

Time: 1pm-11pm

Venue: My home

Address: 2 Tai Po Road, Tai Po, New Territories

Dress Code: Red or Pink

You do not need to bring any food or gifts. Seeing you is already a big gift for us! We are very excited to see you that day.

Love,

Hana

4C Ng Yin Hei, Kariff My Chinese New Year Party

Dear Anders,

You are invited to my Chinese New Year party! The party is in Sha Tin. It starts at 12:30pm and ends at 7:45pm. Don't worry about waiting for people because there are activities for us to do! There are games such as chess, checkers, Guess Who, video games, online games, Gonggi, Tug of War and Ddakji. We can also watch movies such as Star Wars, Toy Story, Hunger Games and Tangled.

You can wear elegant clothes! Maybe a red outfit with beautiful flower markings or even cosplay as a lion!

Bring some red packets if necessary. You can bring rice cake, carrot cake, turnip cake, spring rolls, noodles, sweet rice balls and much more.

Although not everyone can have fun with their relatives, we can bring the fun to them!

Second runner-up

4D Lai Hei Man, Hailey My Chinese New Year Party

Dear family members,

You are invited to my Chinese New Year party! The celebration is on Thursday at 9am until 4pm and the party is in my backyard. You will see a door and the party will be inside. This year's activities are more fun than last year. This year, we have a hide-and-seek competition. You will find out the rules at the party.

Some of you may be thinking about lunch or the afternoon tea arrangements. It isn't a problem! This year, I have hired a top chef. He is a great cook. His best dishes are salad, spaghetti with cheese and meat sauce and many more. He can absolutely cook dim sum, like shrimp dumplings, siu mai and many other types of dim sum. You are going to love the food.

In terms of clothes, you need to wear trousers or shorts because we are going to do a lot of exercise for the games. Here is a little tip: you should wear a short sleeve shirt because it will be hot.

You can bring anything you want, but not dangerous things or big pieces of furniture. You may bring little toys to play with and bring small gifts too.

If you have any other questions, please ask me! I hope you all have fun.

5D Lau Cheuk Nei, Ellie The Year of Your Zodiac Animal Transformation!

On the night of Lunar New Year, as the fireworks lit up the sky, there was a strange feeling in the air. Suddenly, I transformed into my zodiac animal, the horse, and everything changed...

I felt extremely dizzy. Then I passed out. After a while, I woke up. I looked around and couldn't believe my eyes. I was sitting on the African grassland and I had changed into my zodiac animal — a horse!

My mum asked me, 'Horsey! Horsey! Are you ok? You passed out on the grassland!'

I was absolutely shocked. My mother had changed into a horse, too! We were both white horses now! I couldn't say a word or respond for a while.

'Horsey! Are you ok? Let's go out for lunch!', my mum said.

Mum and I went out of the shade.

Mum yelled at me, 'Eat fast or the zebras will grab all the food!'

'I don't want to eat the grass...', I thought.

But then I caught the strong smell of grass and I tried a bit - it was so fresh! I started my feast and gained so much energy.

The next day, I woke up early and ate breakfast. I had just realised that today was going to be the third day of the Lunar New Year.

'I want to put up some spring couplets with my mother', I thought.

I went out of the shade to collect some materials to make a couplet. The spring breeze was so refreshing. I started trotting on the grassland. The morning wind blew on my face, making me feel really comfortable.

Suddenly, a lion popped up from nowhere. It roared at me and started to chase after me. I was totally scared and shocked! I ran for my life but the speedy lion finally grabbed me tight.

I closed my eyes when the lion bit me...

The pain woke me up. I opened my eyes and found my dog biting my hand. I was back!

The Year of Your Zodiac Animal Transformation!

On the night of Lunar New Year, as the fireworks lit up the sky, there was a strange feeling in the air. Suddenly, I transformed into my zodiac animal, the horse, and everything changed...

When I opened my eyes, everything I saw was bigger than before. Also, I was in a meadow!

I tried to stand up but I felt weak. I saw a grown-up horse coming towards me. It talked! I could not believe it. I asked it some questions: 'Who are you? And where am I? Why am I here?'

The horse answered, 'I am your mum. You are in the wonderful forest. I gave birth to you. What do you mean?'

I didn't have anywhere to go so I slowly followed my "mum" to a group of horses. I stayed with them for a few days.

I found that life was good here. But I missed my real family. I told an old horse about it.

He told me that I could go and find a unicorn to help me. But how could I find the unicorn?

I listened to some stories about unicorns from my 'father'; helping others could get gem stones and if I collected ten gem stones, I could summon a unicorn to help me make a wish.

I started my journey. I saw a rabbit with a broken leg. I am a vet in the human world so it's easy for me to help it. I took a long leaf with my teeth and tied it on its hurt leg. I saw a few starving hamsters so I got some nuts for them. After a lot of care, they came and gave me precious gem stones. After they left, a unicorn appeared. The unicorn asked me to make a wish.

I said, "I'd like to transform into anything I like, whenever I want to!"

The unicorn granted my wish. I tried it immediately. I turned into a bird and flew home. I turned back into a human and hugged my family.

I was over the moon because now I had superpowers! And I could visit my family any time I wanted to.

The Year of Your Zodiac Animal Transformation

On the night of Lunar New Year, as the fireworks lit up the sky, there was a strange feeling in the air. Suddenly, I transformed into my zodiac animal, the snake, and everything changed...

On this night, I looked into the mirror at home. Suddenly, there was a circle portal where I was looking at the mirror and then the circle sucked me in!

Later, I could see very far and very clearly. I saw my body. I was a snake! I went to the living room.

Suddenly, I heard a scream from my mum.

Then, I grabbed a pencil from nearby and wrote my name on the floor. Mum was not scared of me anymore.

Mum hid me in the bag and then took me out later. I saw people in the street drinking snake soup. I was scared so I stayed home for Lunar New Year.

I felt unhappy because I couldn't receive red packets or be at the reunion dinner. I went to the mirror with the mentality of giving it a try.

And lucky me! I could actually turn back into a human.

A Story about the Snake's Journey to Join the Zodiac

A long, long time ago, the Jade Emperor wanted to create a Zodiac to represent the years. He announced a big race to choose twelve animals. All the animals were excited and prepared to compete. The race would determine which animals would earn a place in the zodiac, making it an extremely important event. The snake wanted to be a zodiac too. However, it didn't have legs. He could not run as fast as lightning to win the race.

The snake was clever and sneaky. He did a lot of exercise in a secret place. He wanted to build up smooth skin in order to slide quickly.

After one month, he was ready. He asked his best friend, the mouse, to join the race. They faced the challenge together.

In the race, the snake slid as fast as lightning. At first, he was in first place but then he found out that his friend, the mouse, was last. He slid back toward the mouse, and raced by the mouse's side. He cheered on the mouse to run faster. At last, they crossed the finish line but lost the race.

The Jade Emperor appreciated the teamwork of the snake and the mouse. The other animals also respected the snake because he was very kind to his friend. In the end, the Jade Emperor announced that both the snake and the mouse could still be two of the 12 zodiac animals.

A Story about the Snake's Journey to Join the Zodiac

Long ago, the Jade Emperor announced a race to pick twelve animals for the Chinese Zodiac. All the animals in the village were excited, but the snake had a problem. It thought it wasn't fast or strong. It needed a plan.

The snake was clever though. It teamed up with the ox, who was strong but slow.

After discussing the plan, they agreed to help each other. The ox would carry the snake across the river, and the snake would guide the ox through the forest. Together, they made a great team. As they neared the finish line, the snake saw its chance. It slithered off of the ox's back and raced ahead crossing the finish line.

The Jade Emperor was amazed by the snake's cleverness, wisdom and teamwork. In the end, he chose the snake as one of the twelve zodiac animals.

6C Hui Chit, Anson

A Story about the Snake's Journey to Join the Zodiac

The snake said confidently, I must win the competition. It would be my honour to be one of the 12 zodiacs. However, since all the other animals were faster than him, he wondered what he should do.

The snake thought, "I am very lightweight, so I can secretly ride on one of the animals to help me reach the finish line".

What a clever snake! At first, he considered riding the dragon, but it flew too quickly, making it difficult to stay on. His next target was the cow, but it was too lazy. It always laid on the grass doing nothing!

Suddenly, the horse passed by and was running as fast as thunder. The snake said, "The horse is brave and strong, will he make it to the finish line?"

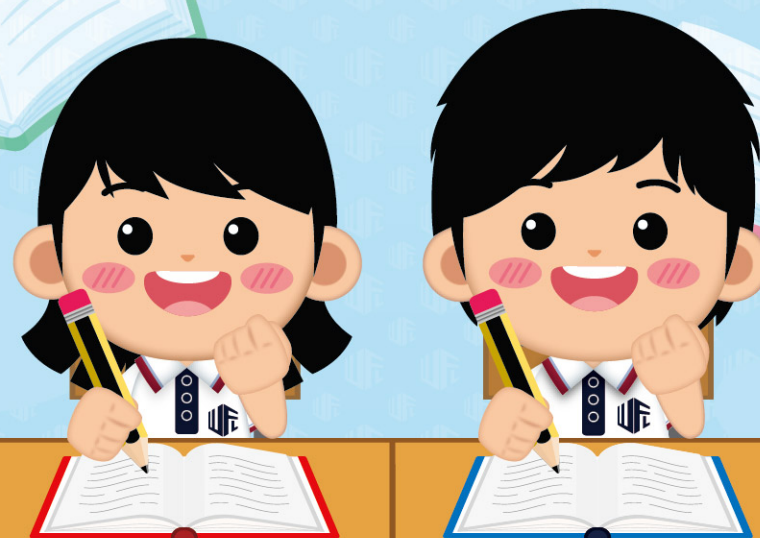

At night, when the horse fell asleep, the snake secretly jumped onto him, and because of his light weight, the horse didn't notice. When the sun rose, the horse was incredibly fast, just as they were about to cross the finish line, the snake leaped off his back and crossed it first.

"I made it! I am the cleverest animal of all!" the snake exclaimed.

In the end, the Jade Emperor announced the twelve animals of the zodiac and from that day on, the snake represented wisdom and intelligence.

It is Chinese New Year today. I went to Lamma Island with my family. It was a memorable day.

In the morning, we went to the pier and we took a ferry to Lamma Island to celebrate Chinese New Year. I felt happy.

In the afternoon, we went to a beach. Dad swam in the sea and Mum read a book under a tree. My grandparents and I built a huge sandcastle. We were hot and relaxed.

In the evening, we had dinner at a Chinese restaurant. Then I gave Grandpa and Grandma a gift. Next, I said "Happy Chinese New Year" to Grandpa and Grandma. It was a great day!

An Unforgettable Picnic

On Sunday, John and his family go to a glorious park called May Park. They go to a nearby table and put their scrumptious food on it. For example, a bunch of bananas, a few apples and a lot of hot dogs. They are in seventh heaven.

All of a sudden, a chubby little monkey jumps out of from the tree next to us and snatches the bananas away from John. "Oh no! Don't take the bananas. I'm going to eat that!" He cries. Everyone is shocked.

Without any hesitation, John's father chases the monkey immediately. His father shouts, "Come back, you naughty monkey! When I get my hands on you, you are going to regret stealing our food!" He is furious.

Finally, John's father sets a trap for the monkey and catches the monkey. He gets the bananas back and sets the monkey free. What a crazy day!

Have you ever made up a language to speak with your friends during playtime?

When I was eight years old, I loved to play with my friends at recess. One day, I had a silly idea. I talked to my friend May in a made-up language. I told her it was Spanish. May was confused and did not know what I was talking about. I made funny sounds and she found out that I pretended to know how to speak Spanish. I told her it was just a prank.

It was a funny memory. I learned that communication is important and I have good friends.

Yesterday was delightful. Our class visited the Science Museum in Tsim Sha Tsui. We saw big dinosaurs there.

Ken, my buddy, tried to touch a dinosaur, and I had to stop him. I yelled, "Don't touch it!"

Then, the dinosaur made a loud roar, and we all got scared. I remembered our teacher's advice not to touch anything in the museum.

Touching the dinosaur made an AI model appear, showing how dinosaurs lived long ago. It was a little scary but also super fun. I can't wait to tell my family about our adventure. I'm excited for our next trip.

Do you want to know why I don't like going to shopping centres?

When I was little, I got lost in a shopping centre and I couldn't find my mum. That day, I went to a shopping centre with Mum. I wanted to go to a toy shop so I went inside. But Mum didn't know I went into the shop so I separated from her.

I felt scared because I couldn't see my parent. A lady asked me for Mum's phone number and helped me call my mum. In the end, I met my mum again.

It was an unforgettable memory. I learnt that I should not walk away from my parents because it is dangerous.

Kelly's Weekend

In the morning, Kelly and her parents went to The Peak and looked at the beautiful view. They felt delighted.

In the afternoon, they went to Sai Kung to have seafood for lunch. Kelly ate a lot of seafood. Mum said, "Kelly, you ate too much seafood!" Kelly said, "Don't worry!" Mum felt worried that Kelly might get sick, but Kelly was over the moon.

That night, Kelly felt sick. She had a stomachache. Kelly said, "I shouldn't have eaten so much seafood!" She felt depressed.

In the end, she went to see the doctor. The doctor said, "You should take a rest at home for one day and drink some water." She couldn't visit Grandma with her mother the next morning. She felt disappointed.

Kelly's Weekend

Kelly got good exam results so her parents took her to Sai Kung and The Peak last Sunday.

In the morning, Kelly and her parents visited The Peak. Kelly said, 'Look at the beautiful view!' Mom exclaimed, 'Yes, it's a wonderful place! I love it here!' Dad said, 'Me too!' They looked at the buildings. They all said, 'It's beautiful here!' They were excited and relaxed.

In the afternoon, they went to the seafood restaurant to eat seafood for lunch. They ordered some steamed fish, baked lobster, deep-fried wontons and fried noodles with seafood. The steamed fish was more expensive than the deep-fried wontons. The baked lobster was the most expensive and delicious. It costed one thousand five hundred and thirty-five dollars. Kelly said, 'It is yummy! I want to eat more.' Mom said, 'Kelly you ate too much!' Kelly said, 'Don't worry! I like to eat seafood!' She ate more and more seafood. She was happy.

At night, Kelly had a stomachache. She cried louder and louder. She shouted, 'My tummy hurts so bad!' She went to the toilet, walked around in the room and sat down on her bed.

In the end, she told her mom. Mom gave her some medicine. She learnt not to eat too much seafood. After a few days, she felt better.

In the morning, Miss Chan took us to Tsim Sha Tsui to visit the Hong Kong Science Museum. We saw an exhibition about dinosaurs. I was over the moon because this was my first time going to a dinosaur exhibition! "It must be so awesome!" Ken said excitedly. "Quiet, now. I will tell you the rules. One, don't shout. Two, don't touch the exhibits. Three, don't run," Miss Chan said. Everyone listened but Ken didn't.

Then, we went into the museum. There were many exhibits inside, like the Tyrannosaurus-Rex, the Compsognathus, the Sauropods, etc. But I thought the T-rex was the coolest, so I wanted to have a look at it. Suddenly, Ken ran to the T-rex and wanted to touch it. "No! Don't touch it!" I said worriedly.

But it was too late. Ken already touched the dinosaur. Suddenly, the dinosaur roared! "Oh my god! Why is the dinosaur moving!" I screamed and I was in shock. "Miss Chan is going to be mad," Candy said. "Oh no... It will kill me!" said Ken.

And then, the dinosaur wanted to eat Ken and started to run after Ken. "Noooo!" said Ken. Suddenly, Ken had an idea. He threw his homework into the dinosaur's mouth. The dinosaur said, "No!" and turned back into an exhibit but the homework disappeared. "How dare you! You touched the dinosaur and threw your homework into the dinosaur's mouth!" Miss Chan said madly. "I'm sorry. Can you forgive me?" Ken asked. "Ok, but you need to redo your homework," Miss Chan said. "No!" Ken said. Ken thought today was lucky and unlucky at the same time.

Did you draw your face with make-up?

One day, when I was two, I used my mum's eyeliner to draw on my cheeks and mouth. The next day, my big sister and I did it again but this time we took a lipstick instead. We thought that it was a colour pencil because it was in a colour pencil box. We started drawing on our faces and my big sister found one too. It was black. Super super black. I thought for a second, "Wait, is that a pencil or something else?" We didn't care because we didn't know it was make-up so we kept going and going until they the lipsticks were almost used up. We didn't waste them. We used every single bit until our mum walked in. She said, "Oh my goodness! What happened?" We didn't say anything and stood there and cried.

Also, I have two sisters and my younger sister always gets all the love. My big sister and I wanted to get my mum's attention. We took my mom's phone and recorded my younger sister doing bad things. We showed it to our mum and my little sister got scolded.

Now, I know I should play and share with my siblings but not fight with each other.

A Diary Entry About My Birthday

Monday

Sunny

Yesterday, it was my birthday. My dad and mum decorated the house. It was very beautiful. I was very surprised. My parents gave me a robot as a birthday gift. Also, the banner and the balloons were beautiful. I liked them very much.

Then, my dad, mum and sister sang a birthday song happily. They also clapped their hands. I made a wish. Suddenly, my sister hit the robot and it fell down. It was broken.

Next, I was very angry. I said, 'You are naughty. You broke my robot.' My sister was very worried. She cried loudly. Mum and Dad comforted her.

In the evening, my sister came to my room and said, 'I am sorry. I repaired the robot. Please forgive me.' Finally, we were happy and laughed again.

Wonderful Places in Hong Kong

There are many wonderful places in Hong Kong. I have visited Ocean Park but I have never been to the Peak.

I have been to Ocean Park six times. I first went there last summer. I went on the exciting rides and they were very fast and fun. The rides made me very joyful. When I was seven years old, my mom and dad took me to the big aquarium to look at the fishes. I have seen a wide range of fishes. For example, sharks, clown fishes, manta rays, sea turtles and more.

I have never been to the Peak. I hope that I can go there once this coming summer. I want to take some photos of the Peak and the harbor at night. I feel excited because I like the stunning views of Hong Kong.

In my opinion, I think we can learn new things about Hong Kong and other countries. It should be a lot of fun for tourists.

A Story about Jason

One day, Jason was playing online games but he forgot his homework. He didn't want to be scolded by Miss Chan so he came up with an excuse.

The next morning, Jason went to school with a bandage around his arm. When Miss Chan asked about his homework, he answered, "Miss Chan, I broke my arm yesterday while I was sweeping the floor at home." Miss Chan believed him. She replied, "You can do your homework after recovery." Jason was so relieved.

In the afternoon, Miss Chan told the class that they would go to Ocean Park. Jason couldn't go because he broke his arm. The whole class was so excited to go to the Ocean Park. Jason was upset because he wanted to go there.

In the end, Jason decided to tell the truth. Miss Chan was surprised after hearing it. He apologized to her for his lie. Miss Chan forgave him but she still punished him for his dishonesty. She still let Jason to go to the Ocean Park but asked him to finish his homework after school. Jason learnt a lesson that he shouldn't lie to anyone or else there will be serious consequences.

The Year of Your Zodiac Animal Transformation!

On the night of Lunar New Year, as the fireworks lit up the sky, there was a strange feeling in the air. Suddenly, I transformed into my zodiac animal, the goat, and everything changed. It reminds me of yesterday. I went hiking in the mountains. While I was hiking, I felt like somebody was following me. It was really scary, so I quickly ran away and found a hiding spot. It was so deep that I could only see pitch black, but there was no choice. I closed my eyes and jumped into the hole. Then I looked for my torch and turned it on. I saw a golden necklace. I felt over the moon. "I could sell it for one hundred dollars!" I thought to myself. When I tried to take it, a paper suddenly appeared. It said, "If you dare to touch it, tomorrow you will transform into your zodiac animal." Fortunately, I didn't care about the warning and took the necklace back home. I would regret it later.

On the night of Lunar New Year, there was a firework celebration. All of my relatives were watching it in the living room except me, because I was so tired, so I slept early. There was a strange feeling in the air while I was asleep. The next day, I woke up and was ready to eat breakfast. But when I opened my eyes, I could hardly see anything but black, grey, and white. It looked exactly like the old movies from the 1890s. Also, I couldn't speak! I could only say, "Mei mei mei." Thirdly, I couldn't stand up or walk with two legs, so I rushed to the toilet and looked into the mirror. I had turned into a GOAT! At that moment, I remembered my neighbor talking about the temple on the mountain. "Do you know there's a Buddha in the temple? I heard if you pray to the Buddha, your wish will come true!" Without hesitation, I ran as fast as I could to the mountain.

When I arrived at the temple, I saw a huge Buddha. I quickly knelt down and prayed. Once I stood up, something magical happened. I became a human again.

Is it a good idea to stop selling junk food to children under twelve?

In recent times, the local community in Hong Kong has initiated a campaign aimed at prohibiting the sale of junk food to children under the age of twelve. This proposal, which seeks to restrict fast food outlets and convenience stores from selling unhealthy food items to minors unless accompanied by an adult, has sparked considerable debate among residents. While the intention behind this campaign is commendable, it is essential to weigh both the advantages and disadvantages of such a measure. On one hand, the detrimental effects of junk food on children's health are well-documented.

High in sugar, salt, and unhealthy fats, these foods contribute to rising obesity rates and associated health issues, such as diabetes and heart disease. By limiting access to junk food, we could potentially foster healthier eating habits among children, encouraging them to opt for more nutritious alternatives. Furthermore, this initiative could serve as a catalyst for parents to engage more actively in their children's dietary choices, promoting family meals and healthier cooking practices. Conversely, the proposal raises several concerns. Firstly, it may inadvertently infringe upon personal freedoms, as parents should have the autonomy to decide what their children consume. Additionally, the practicality of enforcing such a ban poses significant challenges. Shopkeepers may struggle to verify the ages of young customers, leading to potential conflicts and confusion. Moreover, the economic implications for local businesses cannot be overlooked; a decline in sales could jeopardise the livelihoods of many shop owners.

In conclusion, while the campaign to restrict junk food sales to children under twelve is rooted in a desire to protect public health, it is crucial to consider the broader implications of such a policy. A balanced approach that encourages healthy eating without imposing undue restrictions may ultimately be the most effective way to address this pressing issue.

Amazing Places in Hong Kong

There are many nice places in Hong Kong. I have already visited Clearwater Bay and The Peak, but I haven't visited Ocean Park or the Hong Kong Heritage Museum. There is so much we can explore there. Let 's find out!

I have been to Clearwater Bay. I have been there twice. On my last visit, I ate some street food, sunbathed, and swam there. My mum was tired last time and we had no choice but to leave before we had dinner. There are still lots of things to do. We will for sure visit it again.

I have visited The Peak too. There were so many things we could do there during my visit. I bought some souvenirs for my friends and family. I also took the Peak Tram, and admired the beautiful Victoria Harbour. I felt satisfied! The food at The Peak was also amazing. I liked the special fish balls most. They are both salty and tasty! You can't find it anywhere in Hong Kong.

I have never been to Ocean Park. It is a massive theme park with an aquarium and the panda area. I hope I can go there on my next birthday. I want to go on those exciting rides, like, roller coaster and merry-go-round. The most important thing will be looking at the giant pandas.

A Big Lesson

Last Sunday, Jason played online games on his bed until midnight. He was very excited and forgot to do his homework. After he played for about 3 hours, he was too tired and fell asleep without doing any homework.

The next day, Jason woke up in the morning and saw his homework. He had a bundle of nerves. He put some bandage around his arm and went to school. At school, Miss Chan asked him, 'Why didn't you hand in your homework?' 'I fell over on the ground and broke my arm when I was sweeping the floor yesterday morning. I couldn't do my homework.' Miss Chan nodded her head and believed him.

In the lesson, Miss Chan announced, 'We will go to Ocean Park tomorrow. Jason, you hurt your arm so you need to stay at school.' Jason's heart sank. He wanted to join the trip. After school, he went to Miss Chan and told the truth. He apologized sincerely and promised that he would finish all the homework in the evening. Miss Chan said, 'I'm glad that you finally told me the truth but you shouldn't tell lies anymore!'

Finally, Miss Chan forgave Jason and allowed him to go to Ocean Park with them. Jason was over the moon. He said thank you to Miss Chan. He learnt a big lesson.

Be a Good Passenger

Yesterday afternoon, Winnie and I chatted on the train happily. I saw a woman who bought a lot of things and put her shopping bags on the seats. She looked satisfied. However, the other passengers had no choice. They could only sit very close with one another.

Then, an old man who was carrying a walking stick walked onto the train. He wanted to get a seat. He stood in front of the woman but the woman didn't help him. Winnie noticed it. She was annoyed so she said, 'You shouldn't put your belongings on the seat. You should put them on the floor or on your legs! People who are in need can't get a seat!' The old man and I couldn't believe our eyes. Winnie was brave! The woman felt embarrassed and put all her shopping bags on the floor.

The old man was over the moon and thanked Winnie. Winnie was all smiles. I learnt that we should always give a helping hand to people who are in need. I also wish that everyone will be more caring too.

A Diary Entry about a Zoo Visit

15 February 2025(Saturday)

Last week, Sarah and I went to Happy Zoo. We saw many animals such as lions and tigers. We felt excited because we hadn't been to Happy Zoo before.

Soon, Sarah and I went to the panda cage. We saw two pandas and took photos of them. Sarah waved to the pandas. I was taking photos while two pandas were eating bamboo leaves.

After a while, a boy ran to the panda cage. He threw a tennis ball into the panda cage. The zookeeper saw him. He shouted at the boy, 'Don't throw the ball into the cage. You are naughty. Stop!' He wanted to stop the boy. The zookeeper was angry but the boy was joyful.

In the end, the zookeeper caught the boy. The zookeeper scolded the boy. The boy was ashamed. The boy said sorry to the zookeeper. The pandas looked upset. The zookeeper was worried. The zookeeper took away the ball from the panda cage and gave the ball to the boy. The zookeeper forgave him.

An Email to Cousin John

Dear John,

Last week, I watched a football game at the Hong Kong Stadium with Dad. I was over the moon when my dad told me about this. I was especially happy because my favourite football player was going to be there.

When we arrived, we found our seats as soon as possible. I was looking for my favourite player in the crowd. Soon, I found him! I was watching him all of the time. All of a sudden, he did a cool trick! I was so inspired by it. Therefore, I planned to do this trick during my coming football practice.

When it came to the football practice on Friday, I was warming up with my teammates and then I performed the trick, trying to kick the ball. Unfortunately, I fell to the ground and everyone ran to me. They asked me if I was ok. I didn't want to make much trouble so I pretended I was fine.

After the lesson, I told Dad about the fall when he was driving me home. Without a second thought, he drove me to the clinic and had me checked out. The doctor told me that I must tell the truth next time and never pretend to be fine.

Luckily, my ankles don't hurt much. I just need to rest at home for three days. I will also tell the truth and take care of myself.

Best,

Tom

A Diary Entry

Dear Diary,

Today was one of the most horrible days of my life. Dad, Mum and I went to the supermarket to buy some meat in the afternoon.

On our way home, Dad was driving while it was raining heavily. Suddenly, a giant rock rolled down and crushed our car. My dad was driving while my mum was sitting beside him. I was screaming in the back seat. I felt terrified. We were trapped inside!

Soon, the firefighters arrived. They broke the windows and helped us get out of the car. 'Wonderful! We are safe!' I exclaimed. We were quickly sent to the hospital by an ambulance. Dad's arm was broken so he was in great pain. Mum and I were just slightly bruised.

After a few days of treatment in the hospital, Dad gradually recovered. The local government closed off the dangerous area to prevent similar accidents.

This experience has taught our family a valuable lesson. We should always be cautious on the road and safety should always come first. I'm so grateful that we all survived from this terrifying accident.

The NEW Boy Who Cried Wolf

Once upon a time, there was a small forest. A boy called Peter looked after his sheep. He felt bored so he played tricks on the villagers. He cried, 'Help! Help!' the villagers and his best friend Mark went to help him. Peter was laughing loudly because he made up a funny story to amuse himself. Mark was disappointed and the villagers were very angry.

One day, in the forest, Peter ran to the villagers and asked for help from them again. He was crying. He said, 'An ugly witch caught my friend, Dora! Please help!' However, the villagers didn't help him because he was dishonest before. Mark listened to Peter. He was worried about Dora. Peter was disappointed and felt very sorry.

After that, Peter and Mark set off for the castle. Mark said, 'Let's go to save Dora!' Peter looked for the castle, but he felt worried. He was as timid as a mouse. Mark was as brave as a lion. He said, 'Don't worry, Peter! You need to be brave!' Peter said, 'Ok, Mark.'

In the end, Peter and Mark went to the castle. They discussed what to do. Peter said, 'We need to fight with the witch!' Mark replied, 'The witch is very strong! We can't fight with her. We need to wait until she sleeps and then save Dora quietly.' Peter also agreed. When the witch was sleeping, they saved Dora and got away. The witch did not catch them. Peter said, 'Thank you, Mark! You saved Dora!' Mark said, 'You need to promise you will never tell lies again!' Peter said, 'OK!'

An Email to Cousin John

Dear John,

How are you? I hope you are doing well. I wanted to tell you about what happened last week. It was a very memorable experience!

Last week, Dad took me to a football stadium to watch an exciting football match. The football players played really hard. I was really thrilled and over the moon. We watched it with a lively crowd cheering. The match was so spectacular! My dad and I cheered for our favourite football team. Since it was the final game for the championship, we cheered extra loudly! During that time, I was sure that when I grow up, I want to be a football player so that I can travel around for competitions and earn money. My idol, Cristiano Ronaldo, inspired me to follow my dreams.

Three days later, in the sports lesson, my sports teacher took our class to play football. In my first match, when I tried to score a goal, my teammate accidentally bumped into me and I tripped over the ball. When I tried to keep my balance, I twisted my ankle badly. I had to go to the medical room and could not continue my football practice. I felt really disappointed and upset. Also, my leg was in a lot of pain.

After the lesson, I had to leave early. I didn't see the doctor right away but I told my parents what happened. Although I hurt my leg, I never gave up on football because it is my favorite sport. I need to be stronger so that I can improve my football playing skills and become a good football player.

I am looking forward to your reply.

Best,

Tom

The NEW Boy Who Cried Wolf

Once upon a time, there was a boy named Peter herding sheep on the grass field in a small village. He felt bored. Suddenly, he had a bad idea! He made up a story and shouted, "Help! Wolf!" to play tricks on the villagers. They believed in him and felt worried. Peter said, "There's no wolf." The villagers felt furious. Mark asked Peter, "Is this funny, Peter?" Peter laughed and he felt over the moon.

One day on the mountain, Peter told the villagers that the evil witch had caught Dora. He asked them for help. The villagers didn't trust him, but only Mark listened to Peter. They were in a panic.

The next day in the morning, Peter said to Mark, "Let's save Dora from the evil witch." Therefore, they climbed up the mountain where the witch lived. Peter felt nervous when he saw the castle but he had a strong belief that he had to rescue his good friend, Dora, from the evil witch.

After that, Peter went into the castle first to avoid being discovered by the evil witch and Mark waited at the door. Peter saw Dora in the castle so he used scissors to cut off the rope that was tied to her hands. Then, he held her hand and escaped from the castle. Peter was as brave as a lion.

At last, Dora was successfully saved. In the end, Peter learnt that he should have not told lies. If he tells lies again, no one will believe him.

A Diary Entry

15 Febraury 2025 (Saturday)

Last week, Sarah and I were bored. Therefore, we went to Happy Zoo to see the animals. The zoo was enormous. When we were walking to the entrance of the zoo, we saw plenty of animals. We could not believe our eyes and were over the moon.

After a while, we were interested in seeing the locally born pandas. We went in front of the panda cage to see them. They were attractive. Sarah was waving at them while they were eating bamboo leaves happily. They looked adorable. I thought that if I could get into the cage, I would feed them some bamboo leaves. However, I couldn't do that as that would disturb them. I took photos of them happily.

In the afternoon, we were still seeing the pandas. Out of nowhere, a tennis ball was thrown into the cage by a naughty boy. He also shouted to the pandas. This made their hair stand up. When the zookeeper heard it, he rushed over as fast as lightning. He shouted as loud as thunder to stop the boy, "Stop doing that!" Sarah and I were lost for words and the zookeeper was furious.

In the end, the boy burst into tears. He apologised to the zookeeper sincerely. The zookeeper forgave the boy as guilt was written all over his face. The boy learnt a valuable lesson that he should never hurt the animals. This was such an unforgettable experience!

The NEW Boy Who Cried Wolf

Once upon a time, there as a boy called Peter who lived in a village. He was a shepherd responsible for taking care of the sheep and protecting the sheep from the wolves. He was bored of his job so he decided to play tricks on the villagers. He shouted, "Help! Wolf!" Other villagers heard and ran to him as fast as lightning. After they arrived, Peter laughed loudly and said, "There's no wolf." Mark, one of the villagers, said, "You shouldn't tell lies!" Other villagers then left angrily.

One day, Peter begged the villagers for help. He said sadly, "Yesterday, my sister Dora was caught by the witch who was fierce like a tiger. She took Dora to her castle which was on a mountain. Dora is as timid as a mouse so she is very scared now! Please save her!" Then Peter burst into tears as he was very anxious. However, none of the villagers wanted to help him because they thought he lied again. After a while, Mark said to him gently, "I will help you because I think you are not lying"

The next day, Mark and Peter set off for the witch's castle to look for Dora. They climbed up the mountain and found the castle. Mark pointed to the castle and said, "Let's go there!" Mark was determined to recuse Dora but Peter was frightened of the witch.

A few moments later, they went into the castle. They saw the witch and fought with her. Soon, the witch used her magic and tried to kill them. They were shocked so they decided to retreat immediately. While they were escaping, they saw Dora being locked in a room. Then, they waited outside the castle patiently. After the witch fell asleep, they sneaked into the castle and rescued her.

Finally, Peter and Mark brought Dora back to the village safely. Peter apologized to the villagers sincerely and promised he would never tell lies in the future. In the end, the villagers forgave him.

Last week, Sarah and I went to Happy Zoo to see the animals. We all felt excited! There were so many people so we needed to line up to buy the tickets.

At last, we went into the zoo. We went to Panda Island to see the pandas. A huge panda was in front of me. She was sleeping while her baby was eating a bamboo leaf. I quickly took out my camera and took photos. Sarah was waving to the pandas. We were joyful.

After a while, a boy who was about 5 years old ran in front of the panda cage. He was very naughty because he threw a tennis ball at the baby panda. We were shocked! The baby panda was startled so it cried loudly. The zookeeper ran to the cage and asked what happened. We told him that a boy threw a tennis ball into the cage and tried to hurt the baby panda. The zookeeper was furious and told the boy that he couldn't go to the zoo anymore! The boy was shocked and cried bitterly.

A few moments later, the zookeeper calmed down. He said to the boy gently, "If you can promise not to throw anything at the animals, you can come to the zoo again." The boy was ashamed of himself. He made his promise and said sorry to the zookeeper.

Luckily, the baby panda was fine after the check-up. I hoped the boy could learn that he should not hurt animals.

Dear John,

How are you? I hope you are doing well. I wanted to tell you about what happened last week. This was an unforgettable experience!

Last week, Dad and I went to the football stadium to watch an exciting football match. Since it was the final game, there were a lot of people. I was thrilled because it was my first time to watch a live football match. When my favourite football team scored a goal, the spectators and I cheered loudly for it. I thought playing football was quite easy so I decided to be a football player when I grow up.

Three days later, I had a football lesson after school. I had fun with my teammates. Unluckily, I twisted my ankle badly when I tried to attempt a move that I saw in the game. I yelled, "Ouch! My ankle..." My coach took me to a medical room. I was upset and worried about my injury. I thought, "I don't want to play football again!"

After a while, my coach sent me to the hospital. The doctor said, "You must stay in the hospital for one week. Then, my mum and dad arrived. They asked me, "Are you alright? Do you still want to play football?" After a moment of thought, I answered, "Yes."

After this incident, I discovered my passion for playing football. Next time, I will warm up before playing football and practice more so that I can improve my skills. I also learnt I should be careful when doing sports.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Best,

Tom
